Professional Information

Roger Murray M.D., Fellow A.B.V.L.M., P.A., completed his undergraduate work in both California and Charleston, S.C. He attended Medical School at the Medical University of South Carolina. Upon graduation, he spent a year in Dermatology followed by a year in Internal Medicine and then completed a full Residency in Family Practice.

Dr. Murray entered solo private Family Practice in Altamonte Springs, Florida. Several years thereafter his interest turned to Phlebology. Realizing that there were no formal training programs in the United States, Dr. Murray traveled abroad where he spent two years training with the finest Phlebologists in Europe. Upon returning to the United States, he co-founded the American Academy of Phlebectomy. For the next five years, Dr. Murray trained over a hundred surgeons to perform outpatient vein surgery. He recently completed a two-year term serving as President of the Surgical Section of the American College of Phlebology and was one of the first forty (40) Physicians in the United States to be awarded a prestigious Fellowship in Phlebology.

In displaying several of his hand carved marble structures in his practice, which showcase his artistic talents, more and more clients requested that he perform cosmetic procedures. The word of his talents and results spread quickly and now his cosmetic practice accounts for more than half of his overall practice. Dr. Murray performs highly delicate and state of the art procedures which require extensive global travel and continuous training from only the top doctors in the world. Along with his commitment to perfection, beauty and art, Dr. Murray is first and foremost committed to providing his patients with nothing less than exceptional care and highly successful results. His peers affectionately call him the "vein guy" and he is also known in cosmetic circles as the "non-invasive specialist."

While in graduate school, Dr. Murray worked in basic science collagen research. His love for discovery and development in science has stayed with him throughout his life. This culminated with the establishment of Scientific Nutraceuticals, LLC. in 2005. Before production of any nutraceuticals, Dr. Murray researches the subject to the nth degree. This has resulted in 3 highly informative books: "Practice Without Fear," "Forever Young and Healthy" and "The Almost Complete Book of Sex," which addresses most of the medical conditions that negatively impact sexual performance. Dr. Murray's latest book "Success Today," co-written for Brian Tracy earned him a prestigious Quilly Award from the National Academy of Best-Selling Authors in Hollywood, California.
